

De-escalation Techniques for Criminal Justice Professionals CJSTC #1411

The 16-hour FDLE course is designed to provide officers with instruction in the techniques of de-escalation. This course focuses on de-escalation and how it relates to use of force and crisis intervention.

There will be practical de-escalation techniques that you can use on a daily basis as well as reality-based scenarios that encourage you to critically think about a situation and the best course of action.

Officers will be required to pass a written test. There is an attendance policy.
